

AAARI Spotlight

June 2010

Message from AAARI Executive Director

Dear Friends and Colleagues,

As the 2009/2010 academic year comes to a close, we wish to thank all of those who helped AAARI accomplish so much. From the leadership of CUNY, to our wonderful board members, faculty, staff, students, and community leaders and members, thank you for your support.

We are looking forward to an exceptional 2010/2011 academic year in which Visting Tam Professors Paul Ong and Russell Leong will be joining us, and as we welcome our first graduate fellow at AAARI. We are looking forward to opportunities to work closely with all of you as we seek facilitate, support and generate original research to inform and educate policymakers, legislators and the general public on issues of concern to the global Asian and Asian American communities.

Regards,

Hunter Film & Media Professor Wins Platinum Remi Award at Film Festival

Hunter College/CUNY Film and Media Studies Assistant Professor Shanti Thakur has won the Platinum Remi Award for Experimental Film at the 43rd Worldfest Houston International Film Festival for her short film, "Sky People."

"Sky People" is a lyrical satire on class in New York City. Scientists discover that the farther you are from earth, the slower time passes and therefore, the longer you'll live. The story follows 21 different characters' race to be a "sky-person" - the elite one percent who live above the 13th floor.

The film was partially funded by a PSC-CUNY Research Award.

Nela Shaik Receives 2010 Salk Award

Nela Shaik, a chemistry and biology major at Brooklyn College/CUNY, was awarded one of the eight Salk Scholarships annually bestowed by CUNY as a tribute to Dr. Jonas E. Salk, the 1934 City College alumnus who developed the polio vaccine in 1955.

Born in Hyderabad India, Shaik came to the United States in 2004 after finishing high school. Hailing from a family where her parents are in the teaching field and all her siblings are college graduates, Shaik is particularly proud of having received several accolades and awards, including the Arnold and Ruth T. Kaufman Memorial Undergraduate Chemistry Research Award (2007), and the Carl and Milton Blander (2009) scholarships.

CUNY Conference on Taking the Lead in Leadership

5/7/10 - Sponsored by the CUNY Diversity Grant, over 100+ people attended AAARI's conference on how the 2009 New York City Elections has shaped Asian American civic participation. Glenn Magpantay, Staff Attorney at the Asian American Legal Defense and Education Fund, presented on the 2009 Election Exit Polls of Multi-lingual Voters in New York City. Morning and afternoon sessions discussed Coalition Building and Community Empowerment; and the Role of New Immigrants and the Charge of Elected Officials. Special speakers included New York City Comptroller John C. Liu; U.S. Congressmember Judy Chu; and Kiran Ahuja, Executive Director of the White House Initiative on Asian American and Pacific Islanders.
