Thomas Tam Ph.D., M.P.H.

The Thomas Tam Scholarship is funded by an endowment established by The City University of New York (CUNY) and is administered by the Asian American Asian Research Institute (AAARI) of CUNY at Queens College in recognition of Thomas Tam's contributions as a former member of the CUNY Board of Trustees, Executive Director of the Asian American /Asian Research Institute, and leadership in the Asian American community. The Thomas Tam Scholarship will award the amount of $1,000 annually to a qualified undergraduate student currently enrolled at any of the twenty-three colleges within CUNY.

The purpose of the Scholarship is to help support and recognize a CUNY undergraduate student, Asian or non-Asian, who has demonstrated creativity in the communication of the concerns of the Asian American community in areas such as Health, Education and Culture. The display of this communication can be in the form of written reports, film, video, new media techniques, and the development of performances or materials in the Arts and Sciences.

Deadline: Wednesday, April 30, 2008
